How To Get a Man To Fall In Love With You and Never Let You Go

That indescribable feeling you get when a handsome man looks at you admiringly. You can see it in his eyes... he's interested. Mmm, mmm...

You instantly start feeling giddy, youthful, bubbly and a bit more beautiful. You blush and fight the urge to giggle.

How would you like to elicit those same feelings in a man? Well, maybe not the giddy and bubbly part. But wouldn't you love to know how to develop your flirting skills so any man you find attractive will want to get to know you better?

That is, after all, what flirting is all about, isn't it? To get him to notice you and be interested enough to get a conversation going, then get a date, then, if you have enough going on, to keep it going?

So, how about being able to not only grab a man's interest but also have the flirting skills to get him to fall in love with you?

Well, you're in luck because I'm going to show you how to take flirting to a whole new level. This is not about getting a man into bed, it's about getting you "wed," or whatever your long-term relationship goals are.

This is not a flirting manual that teaches you how to titillate and turn a man on. There's no art to that. There's not even any skill. Show enough skin and cleavage, wear a tight enough outfit and the job is done.

No, what I'm going to teach you is much more exciting than that. I'm going to teach you how to capture a man's interest, cause him to be intrigued to get to know you better and, because he won't be able to stop thinking about you, to keep wanting more time with you until he's madly in love with you. No longer will you have to rely on it happening by accident. Now you're going to know exactly what to do to get the outcome you want.

By the time you've read this entire book you will have learned a variety of secrets about flirting that most women will never know; essential secrets about men, about love and about life, all of which hold the keys to a man's heart. As you learn to use these secrets, men will notice right away that you are different than most women, exceptional, actually, and very special.

Before we go any further, it's important for you to know the two reasons why a man will not commit to a long-term relationship with you.

Reason #1: You're not the right one.

Reason #2: He's not ready.

That's it. All the reasons you or he makes up fit into one of those two reasons, no exceptions. If you are the right one, but he doesn't have his career where he needs it to be, he'll walk away from you.

If you're not the right one, but you're good enough for now, he'll hang around until he gets bored or you give him the ultimatum. Then, as you've probably seen happen, he goes on to the next woman and marries her in six months. She was the right one.

What I'll be teaching you is how to be the right one for a much wider array of men (which will give you more choices), and how to determine if he's ready.

- ❖ Secret About Men: When you're the right one, and he's ready, he'll move mountains to make you his woman.

A Very Big Problem Between Men and Women

You're probably not old enough to remember when the Feminist Movement was birthed. But I am. I remember what it felt like before and after.

Those in the forefront were fighting against the status quo, knowing there were important changes that needed to be made in how society perceived and treated women. But great damage was done to men's and women's ability to create happy, fulfilling relationships.

None of us want to go back to “Leave-It-To-Beaver Land” and become “June Cleavers,” but we do want to get back to enjoying truly satisfying relationships. It’s been way too long and this divorce rate we’ve been living with is weakening the fabric of our society.

As women have become stronger, more empowered, with more avenues to show how capable they are, men have grown to feel useless to women. Because I frequently interview men I am blessed to have very personal conversations with them where they reveal what they’re feeling. One of the ongoing themes is, “Why do women even want us around when they act like they don’t need us?” A lot of men have told me they’ve given up on dating because it’s so much easier to just go out with the guys.

A side effect of women becoming stronger is their sense of competition toward men. Professionally, it’s understandable. But because most of a woman’s day is spent in the workplace, it becomes ingrained. Sadly, that competitiveness carries over into the romantic arena and it is killing the potential for romance.

When you add to this stew the way media portrays men as idiots and buffoons in sit-coms and commercials, you end up with a whole society smirking at how silly men are.

❖ Secret About Men: Men need a woman to respect them.

One of the primary things men need from women is respect, admiration and appreciation. And they don’t need this for being good at romance or taking you to dinner and a movie, they need it simply for being good, capable men.

❖ Secret About Men: Their desire to give the romance women want is directly proportional to how important she makes him feel.

Anything you do to undermine his confidence as a man will cause him to need to pull away, just as surely as a sea anemone will pull itself in if you poke it with your finger.

He needs to look up to you and respect you as well, but if you whittle away at his manhood, which is wrapped up in his need to be good at providing and being able to make his woman happy, he will leave.

We Have To Undo The Damage

If it offends you to consider letting a man know you respect, admire and appreciate him, then you have two choices: 1) Continue on with that attitude and be alone; or 2) place that feeling in a box and put it on a shelf in the closet while you read the rest of the book. You can always get it out later, if that's what you want, but for now, if you really do want to learn the art of flirting, you have to set it aside in order to hear what I need to tell you.

Read the subtitle to this book again: How To Get a Man To Fall In Love With You and Never Let You Go. If you want to enjoy the pleasure of being fully loved, taken care of and cherished and adored by a man, you'll want to learn the art of flirting. But what I mean by flirting is not the typical lessons in eyelash batting and coquettish behavior.

What I'm going to share with you is an entirely different way of getting a man's attention, causing him to desperately need to get to know you better and once he starts down that road, to fall madly in love with you because he's found his treasure. When you know how to flirt like this he will never want to lose you.

If this sounds like something you'd enjoy, then great, we're on the same page... so to speak. But let's look at all this a bit closer. Getting a man's attention, causing him to need and desire you, having a man who is so committed to keeping you happy he'll do everything in his power to always have you in his life, those are all the things that most women would agree they want.

What Will This Kind Of Love Feel Like?

The bigger question, the one that lies quietly beneath those stereotypical things we all want is, how will it make you feel when you have a relationship with a man that will give you that kind of love?

Here's what I know will happen when you embrace what you're going to learn about flirting with men:

1. You'll gain more pleasure out of being a woman
2. You'll feel more attractive
3. You'll feel more alive
4. You'll feel younger
5. Your energy will be enhanced, causing you to glow with newfound vibrancy
6. Your immune system will be improved because it's been proven that being in love does that to people (so does having great sex)
7. Your attitude will be more positive
8. Everyone, not just this lucky man, will enjoy you more

Note: To really get all the value from this material possible, I encourage you to get a journal so you can do all of the exercises. Just reading through a book will help you become more aware, but I've included many exercises to help you actually change how you behave toward men, improve the quality of your energy so you are happier and more attractive, and eventually, develop new habits that will cause you to glow more beautifully than ever before in your life.

- Pre-Flirting Exercise: What can you add to the list of benefits you'll gain? Make a personal list in your journal that will inspire you to not only finish reading this book but to actually put into practice what I'll be teaching you. You don't know it yet but your life is about to be enhanced at every level.
